“ Our family got to know Al and Carol when we visited Jim's parents in Sun City Center. Later when Al and Carol came to North Beach Campground in Vermont, we would see them at the campground, go to dinners or just get together. The only thing bigger than Al's smile, was his heart. He was so much fun! My best memory was the Easter Sunday he and Carol spent at our house. We laughed and ate and laughed some more. Al was a special guy and I will miss our chats and his warm hugs. Addison will always fondly recall Al teasing her and her cousin. Al was one of the good guys, a rare and special friend.

“ Al was the best friend and 'across the street' neighbor you could ever hope to have. He was quick to run over here to lend a hand as well as tools. Both he and Carol were good friends who celebrated our 'ups' with us as well as helping out with our 'downs'. Our grown children and families as well as my brother and family always made sure to visit with him every time they were visiting us. There is a big hole in our life now and we will sure miss him.
